v.

Perry M. Henderson, formerly known as Perry
M. Bryant,
Appellant

United States of America,
Appellee

BEFORE: Tatel, Griffith, and Millett, Circuit JudgesORDER

Upon consideration of the motion for reconsideration (styled as a petition for rehearing), and the motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction, it is ORDERED that the motion for reconsideration be denied. Appellant is instructed to raise in his appellate brief any arguments he wishes the court to consider. It is FURTHER ORDERED that the motion for temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction be denied. The request for a stay of this proceeding is now moot, because the court has ruled on the motion for reconsideration. Because no judgment has been entered in this case, appellant cannot file a petition for rehearing at this time. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 40 (“a petition for panel rehearing may be filed within 14 days after entry of judgment”).
